Would you like to reduce overheads, free-up time and save money?!

VoicePower Ltd streamline organisational working practices by incorporating secure speech recognition technologies which provide radical and quantifiable returns on investment.

- reduce the burden of administration
- speak rather than type those letters and emails
- reduce the turnaround time of documentation
- improve your customer services
- go home on time!

A trained typist can type at around 80 words per minute, a fairly IT literate person can type at around 40 words per minute, with speech recognition you can type at 120 words per minute - 3 times faster!

We will drastically reduce the time it takes to produce letters, emails and to update CRM systems.

VoicePower's solutions combine the world's best of breed technologies with high quality consulting, project management, integration, training and support services. Being an independent company based in Harrogate, we assess individual circumstances and supply the most appropriate solution dependent upon the requirements and objectives of the organisation.

PHILIPS

"We're very pleased with the system that VoicePower installed - an extremely efficient solution that provides incredible flexibility and cost savings"

Patrick McCutcheon, Dacre, Son and Hartley

"A 40 line email would take me all afternoon to type. Now they are done in minutes! It has improved customer service because the enhanced turnaround speed means you can prepare an acknowledgement much more quickly"

John Mott, SMG Financial

"VoicePower Ltd have been great. They made getting digital dictation simple and straightforward with their expertise. Their after-sales support has also been superb - they have dealt with any technical issue straight away. We are very pleased we went to them and delighted with the service we have had."
